Falmouth is a unique community. It can be described by its geography, villages, and proximity to the ocean. But communities are also about shared interests, actions, practices, or circumstances. We belong to many communities: teams, bands, clubs, neighborhoods, religious, cultural, or heritage groups; any collection of people. We want to know about one of the communities to which you belong.

Choose one of your communities and describe it for us:

- What it is about
- How you became involved
- How has it shaped you
- How have you contributed
- Are there any circumstances that may have hindered or enhanced your involvement
- How your community might describe you
- How your community might convince us you deserve a scholarship

Essays must be written and formatted as follows:

- Minimum of 250 and maximum of 500 words
- Typed (preferred) or handwritten legibly, in black ink
- One-inch margins
- Double-spaced
- Paragraphs first lines indented .5 inches
- No extra space inserted between paragraphs
- If typing, use only one of the following fonts in 12 point: Times New Roman, Calibri, or Cambria
